Maple V Library Reference Manual Feb 02 2020 The design and implementation of the Maple system is an on-going project of the Symbolic Com putation Group at the University of Waterloo in Ontario, Canada. This manual corresponds with version V (roman numeral five) of the Maple system. The on-line help subsystem can be invoked from within a Maple session to view documentation on specific topics. In particular, the command ?updates points the user to documentation updates for each new version of Maple. The Maple project was first conceived in the autumn of 1980, growing out of discussions on the state of symbolic computation at the University of Waterloo. The authors wish to acknowledge many fruitful discussions with colleagues at the University of Waterloo, particularly Morven Gen tleman, Michael Malcolm, and Frank Tompa. It was recognized in these discussions that none of the locally-available systems for symbolic computation provided the facilities that should be expected for symbolic computation in modern computing environments. We concluded that since the basic design decisions for the then-current symbolic systems such as ALTRAN, CAMAL, REDUCE, and MACSYMA were based on 1960's computing technology, it would be wise to design a new system "from scratch". Thus we could take advantage of the software engineering technology which had become available in recent years, as well as drawing from the lessons of experience. Maple's basic features (elementary data structures, Input/output, arithmetic with numbers, and elementary simplification) are coded in a systems programming language for efficiency.

Crisis Resource Manual Nov 12 2020 This resource begins with a checklist of things to do and brief explanations of each item on the list. The next section provides forms, fliers and letters with permission to copy those pages during crises to assist in the response, including guidelines for administrators, counselors and teachers, agendas for meetings, templates for announcements to students and parent letters to be sent home. The section on Safe Rooms outlines materials and supplies needed to help students grieve. Included is a chapter on activities to do with youth to assist in the grieving process, including both art and other activities. One chapter covers unusual or challenging deaths (suicide, homicide, missing children and more). Suggestions for Life Tributes (a school-based, student organized memory gathering) are provided. A section on trauma gives a basic format for understanding how those who were at the scene of a death may struggle and how schools can support those assist those students to continue to participate in the academic process in spite of the difficulties with memory and focus. The chapter on follow-up provides key factors in preventing one crisis from cascading into more. Finally, staff tasks and assignments are listed. The book is organized such that what one needs to respond to the crisis at hand is in the front of the book, easy and fast to find when every second counts. Information about planning and training is in the back. The book is designed to be what school staff reach for in the heat of the moment, so the organization of the first half is based on the timelines of what is needed at each step along the way during the crisis. When first examining the book, users are encouraged to start at the back for organizational information to put in place, knowing that, when crisis strikes, what you need immediately is on page one.
