Researchonefficiencyandfairnessofresourcesallocationbychina'sgovernmentaladministration Sep 21 2021 In China, the government controls a large part of resources, such as land, energy, bank savings, and so on. This book studies the efficiency and fairness of resources allocation by governmental administration in China. The book states that it is neither fair nor efficient to allocate resources by the governmental administrations. These resources should be allocated by the market.The book analyzes the resources allocation by government administration in three key areas namely education, health care, and land. A quantitive analysis is developed for describing more precisely the situation of unfairness in fiscal resources allocation. This book also describes how ordinary people address the misposition of resources by governmental administrations by migrating from the provinces with less resources to the provinces with more resources in education or health care. Thus, the book concludes that the actual allocation of resources is determined by the interactions between ordinary people and the government.

Implementing a Comprehensive Research Compliance Program Jun 30 2022 The senior research compliance administrator has emerged as a critically important position as universities and other research organizations face an increasingly intricate regulatory environment. These administrators are tasked with a special challenge: ensuring that their institutions conduct safe, ethical, and compliant research while also helping researchers understand and meet compliance requirements and achieve their research goals. These competing responsibilities can make the role of the research administrator complex; however, those who serve in this role may find that they have limited preparation for the challenges and little or no formal education in the field. Thus, the goal of this handbook is to provide practical guidance to research administrators who are responsible for a wide variety of compliance programs. Previous volumes on these topics have focused primarily on educating research faculty, staff, and students. An assumption in many of these handbooks is that all additional questions related to research ethics and regulations should be directed to the senior research administrator; yet, the books have limited guidance intended for the senior research administrators themselves. This handbook is designed, therefore, to serve as a detailed program implementation manual for these administrators, who are expected to be conversant on a broad range of complex ethical and regulatory topics and to provide guidance to those conducting research, as well as upper administration and others interested in safe, ethical, and compliant research.

CRA Research Administrator Exam ExamFOCUS Study Notes 2018/19 Edition Oct 03 2022 According to the Research Administrators Certification Council, the designation of Certified Research Administrator (CRA) means that an individual has met the requirements of the Research Administrators Certification Council's eligibility requirements and has demonstrated a level of knowledge necessary for a person to be a professional research or sponsored programs administrator. Exam candidates would have to pass the written examination developed by the Council and administered in the form of computer testing by the Professional Testing Corporation. The multiple choice based examination would test a broad base of fundamental information required to meet the demands and responsibilities of the profession. The examination is based on the Council's comprehensive BOK, which includes topics listed in http: //www.cra-cert.org/CRAbodyofknowledge.html Simply put, a research administrator needs to act as: a contract administrator a negotiator a project manager a record keeper a bookkeeper The CRA exam attempts to assess the knowledge of academic researchers via MC questions - this can become a problem as practical researchers are not always skillful in taking MC tests. ALSO, you must understand that the CRA exam is not about research skills. It is about the overall administration and management of the entire research effort. Therefore, a lot of "business management" kinds of concept are tested. Having rich academic research background is not enough - you have to be a good administrator and manager as well. Keep in mind, managing a research project is no different from managing a traditional business project. All business concepts, principles and practices would apply. The BOK of the exam has a huge scope. Expecting full and complete coverage of all the knowledge items from a single source is unrealistic. You should use this book together with other study resources!

Even after passing the exam, you will find yourself coming back to use this book as an on-the-job reference. Full coverage of exam topics includes: Basic and advanced Solaris 10 installation Managing file systems and core dumps Performing user and security administration Managing network printers and system processes Performing system backups and restores and managing storage volumes Managing naming services Managing role based access control and system messaging Understanding fundamentals of TCP/IP networking and managing network services The book features complete details on all exam objectives, 250+ practice questions, step-by-step exercises, on-the-job elements, a two-minute drill at the end of each chapter that reviews the key points in the chapter, and chapter self-tests. The CD contains MasterExam practice exam software with all new questions, a Searchable electronic book, and a second practice exam (with free online registration).

Cip Exam Study Guide Jul 08 2020 PRODUCT DESCRIPTION This study guide provides one tool for the preparation and study for the CIP examination. It is a companion book to the CIP Exam Workbook. The sequence of chapters in the study guide follows the same sequence as in the CIP exam workbook and the flow of ideas in each chapter is concordant with the sequence of questions in the workbook. It is recommended that the two books be studied together for the most effective exam preparation. The study guide is organized in distinct chapters each of which covers one aspect of the regulations or guidances. The study material is designed to instruct on core information relevant to the examination. However it is hoped that the study guide can also function as an IRB Handbook. The study guide is therefore designed not only to prepare for the CIP examination but also to educate IRB professionals and Clinical Research Coordinators on matters which arise frequently in IRB administration. The Institutional Review Board (IRB) is responsible for the review of a wide variety of clinical research. As the complexity of clinical research has grown over the years, the duties and responsivities of the IRB have grown increasingly complex. This complex environment demands that the IRB be staffed and managed by professionals. As a part of affirming the professionalism of IRB staff, administrators and directors the Public Responsibility in Research and Medicine (PRIM&R) provides an important forum for education and affirmation of ethical standards for the performance and management of clinical research. An important component of this program is the certification exam known as the CIP (Certified IRB Professional). This examination which is offered twice a year covers a wide range of regulatory topics.The book addresses the key issues in federal regulations outlined in statutes including Title 45 part 4 (Protection of Human Subjects) , Title 21 part 50 (Protection of Human Subjects), Title 21 part 56 (Institutional review Boards) Title 21 part 54 (Financial Disclosures by Clinical Investigators) . Also addressed are key FDA statutes involved in the regulation of clinical trials Title 21 part 312 (Investigational New Drug Application), Tile 21 part 812 (Investigational Device Exemptions) and Title 21 part 11(Electronic Records and Electronic Signatures). The CIP exam covers material based not only on these regulations but also on guidances issued by OHRP and the FDA. Special attention has been devoted to material covered in these guidances. Also addressed are interactions of the IRB with other committees in the institutional environment.

The National Exam and Self-Study Guide for Assisted Living Administration Sep 09 2020 Assisted Living and Residential Care Administration is a new and rapidly emerging health profession in which minimum standards of education for administrators are just being established. Organized around the current domains of practice for nursing home administrators, this self-study guide has 675 test questions in the national exam format. Each question is referenced to Allen's major text, ASSISTED LIVING ADMINISTRATION, to explain why your answers are correct or incorrect. This guide will test the knowledge of current administrators and educate them to run efficiently an assisted living or residential care facility so that it meets current federal requirements for safety and excellence.

Research on Technology Use in Multicultural Settings Aug 09 2020 This book is the third volume in the series on Research in Educational Diversity and Excellence. The goal of this series is to bring issues of diversity and educational risk to the forefront of national attention in order to assist the nation’s diverse students at risk of failure to achieve academic excellence. This series focuses on critical issues in the education of linguistic and cultural minority students and those placed at risk by factors of race, poverty, and geographic location. The purpose of the present book is to summarize and discuss recent perspectives, research, and practices related to the use of educational technology in multicultural settings. Technology that is already ubiquitous in our daily lives brings a myriad of issues to the area of education. Although educational systems should be geared to address challenges appropriately, the systems should be designed and developed to provide opportunities to take advantage of technology use. This book is noteworthy in that it presents a variety of theoretical and practical considerations for technology use in diverse multicultural contexts. Consisting of 12 chapters, the book (a) proposes theoretical concerns for understanding technological learning environments today and envisions the potential impact of future technology use and (b) examines technology tools and models that have been used for interventions, programs, and projects and measures and documents specific outcomes and challenges involving complex interactions within low-income and languageminority families and students.
