The Mask of Motherhood Oct 28 2022 Becoming a mother is filled with the extremes of emotion --the highest highs and the lowest lows. But women are often reluctant to talk honestly about the experience for fear they'll be seen as bad mothers. With wit and candor, The Mask of Motherhood takes on the myths and the misinformation, helping women to prepare and deal with the depth of feeling that comes with the experience and perhaps most important, it lets them know that many, if not most, new mothers are feeling the same way. Susan Maushart, sociologist and mother of three, explores how motherhood affects our marriages and friendships, our relationships with parents, our sex lives, and our self-esteem. In The Mask of Motherhood, mothers will find the comfort and reassurance they are looking for, and confirmation that, indeed, motherhood is the toughest job in the world, but can also be the most rewarding.

We Wear the Mask Jul 01 2020 Why do people pass? Fifteen writers reveal their experiences with passing. For some, "passing" means opportunity, access, or safety. Others don't willingly pass but are "passed" in specific situations by someone else. We Wear the Mask, edited by Brando Skyhorse and Lisa Page, is an illuminating and timely anthology that examines the complex reality of passing in America. Skyhorse, a Mexican American, writes about how his mother passed him as an American Indian before he learned who he really is. Page shares how her white mother didn't tell friends about her black ex-husband or that her children were, in fact, biracial. The anthology includes writing from Gabrielle Bellot, who shares the disquieting truths of passing as a woman after coming out as trans, and MG Lord, who, after the murder of her female lover, embraced heterosexuality. Patrick Rosal writes of how he "accidentally" passes as a waiter at the National Book Awards ceremony, and Rafia Zakaria agonizes over her Muslim American identity while traveling through domestic and international airports. Other writers include Trey Ellis, Marc Fitten, Susan Golomb, Margo Jefferson, Achy Obejas, Clarence Page, Sergio Troncoso, Dolen Perkins-Valdez, and Teresa Wiltz.

Goodbye to Shame Feb 20 2022 Tina Bears was overwhelmed with panic when her husband coldly told her, "I have gotten away with everything, everything but murder." In this dramatic story of escape from a planned murder/suicide, Tina bravely recounts her life of hiding her shame under a mask of lies as a dutiful wife in a suburban Christian community. Tina learned to remove her mask, and shares her difficult journey through the shame of an unstable broken childhood home, the shame of a teen pregnancy, and the shame from a ten year abusive marriage. Through her faith in Jesus Christ, God has removed Tina's shame and allowed her to overcome a life filled with brokenness and abuse. She has gone from feeling like a worthless, second-class, shamed woman in the eyes of God, to an understanding of the fact that she is valued and loved by her Heavenly Father. "Because of the love of God in Jesus Christ, my shame is gone, and now I can recognize that same shame in others who are hurting because of abuse. There is truly a great connection between the hurting and the healed. God has called me to reach out to those who are still hurting from abuse and to let them know that they are not alone in their pain." —Tina Bears

Mother's Milk Jul 21 2019 Forensic psychiatrist Barrett Conyors is back. Barrett Conyors finds the discovery of the bodies of two heroin-addicted teens particularly hard to accept. Barrett's convinced that chief suspect Jerod, a homeless schizophrenic, didn't do it but she's the only one, apart from Detective Ed Hobbs, who is. But even Hobbs can't stop Barrett from following a complex trail of drugs and death that places her in the cross hairs of a killer...

How the Raccoon Got Its Mask Aug 14 2021 Tina is a very curious little girl who asks her mother how the raccoon got its mask. Tinas mother tells her to go to a nearby pond and ask the first raccoon she comes across. Amazingly, Mr. Raccoon pops his head up and responds to Tina with a fantastic story that solves the mystery In the delightful and entertaining tale, How the Raccoon Got its Mask, readers, young and old, will follow Mr. Raccoons engaging story with anticipation and wonder. Tina Ferry grew up in North East Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and now resides in Clermont, New Jersey, where she works with special needs children. The Mask of Time Mar 09 2021 Trying to determine who attacked her mother and why, journalist Anna Kelly learns of her mother's birth in wartime Italy, her obsessive search for her father, and a wealthy man's secret about Anna's own life. Reprint.

A Gorgon's Mask Apr 10 2021 The thesis of A Gorgon's mask: The Mother in Thomas Mann's Fiction depends upon three psychoanalytic concepts: Freud's early work on the relationship between the infant and its mother and on the psychology of artistic creation, Annie Reich's analysis of the grotesque-comic sublimation, and Edmund Bergler's analysis of writer's block. Mann's crisis of sexual anxiety in late adolescence is presented as the defining moment for his entire artistic life. In the throes of that crisis he included a sketch of a female as Gorgon in a book that would not escape his mother's notice. But to defend himself from being overcome by the Gorgon-mother's stare he employed the grotesque-comic sublimation, hiding the mother figure behind fictional characters physically attractive but psychologically repellent, all the while couching his fiction in an ironic tone that evoked humor, however lacking in humor the subtext might be. In this manner he could deny to himself that the mother figure always lurked in his work, and by that denial deny that he was a victim of oral regression. For, as Edmund Bergler argues, the creative writer who acknowledges his oral dependency will inevitably succumb to writer's block. Mann's late work reveals that his defense against the Gorgon is crumbling. In Doctor Faustus Mann portrays Adrian Leverkühn as, ultimately, the victim of oral regression; but the fact that Mann was able to compete the novel, despite severe physical illness and psychological distress, demonstrates that he himself was still holding writer's block at bay. In Confessions of Felix Krull: Confidence Man, a narrative that he had abandoned forty years before, Mann was finally forced to acknowledge that he was depleted of creative vitality, but not of his capacity for irony, brilliantly couching the victorious return of the repressed in ambiguity. This study will be of interest to general readers who enjoy Mann's narrative art, to students of Mann's work, especially its psychological and mythological aspects, and to students of the psychology of artistic creativity.

The Mask Carver's Son Mar 21 2022 1890. Yamamoto Kiyoki is a Japanese art student, dreaming of studying in Paris with the inspiring and vibrant Impressionist painters. Yamamoto Ryusei is Kiyoki's father. Ryusei's art, carving intricate masks for traditional Japanese theater, has been his refuge from loneliness since the death of his beloved wife, and he is revered as the most inspired artist of his kind. He expects his only son to honor the traditions of his family and his country, not to be seduced by Western ideas of what is beautiful. Ryusei hopes Kiyoki will follow his own distinguished career, creating masks that will become the family's crowning achievement. But what is a father to do when his son's path is not what he had planned? And how can a son honor his father, and yet fulfill his own destiny? READERS GUIDE INSIDE

Removing the Mask Oct 16 2021 If I could teach one person anything in my life, I would teach them to love unconditionally. What I mean is that you must learn to look for the good in life. If you lose your mother you must still have unconditional love and learn to move on. If you are hungry you must find happiness in hunger and if you are sick you must find happiness there because I believe that unconditional love heals every ailment that we have.

Unconditional love is happy and you will be happy no matter what. With unconditional love you are happy because you accept all things but when you have conditioned love when things happen you are limited. Live life limitless and without conditions. (Change your mindset and you will be happier. No matter what you will accept all changes in life, good or bad with no limitations). Stop setting limits on yourself, bite the bullets and set unconditional happiness. See your experiences for what they are and don't define someone's past as their future. At twenty you could be a single mother who is a drug addict living on the street and at forty you could be a doctor or a lawyer. Do not define anyone by their past. This is what my book is all about.

Lucy's Mask Jun 12 2021 Masks are everywhere. What do kids think about that? When Lucy finds out her mom is making her a special mask she's excited. Lucy loves masks! She dives into her toy box full of costumes and opens a world of imagination and make-believe adventure, far beyond the walls of her room. Of course, she doesn't realize that the mask her mom is making is not part of a costume but one that will keep her safe and make her a real-life superhero. This book is not a science lesson about germs and protection. It's a simple fun story that helps make mask-wearing more relatable and less scary. Parents and educators have found it to be a wonderful tool to start a conversation about germs, viruses, the pandemic, and what families have to do to keep themselves and others safe. For children heading to schools that will require them to wear masks, and for parents, grandparents and teachers looking for stories that give comfort and reassurance to kids about the changes around them, Lucy's Mask is a welcome addition to reading time. Lucy's Mask was a Finalist in the 2021 Next Generation Indie Book Awards.

Behind the Mask from a Child Abuse Survivor Jan 07 2021 The author tells the true story of her childhood abuse, shameful secrets, and her strength of survival while living on the streets. At a young age, she experienced the pain of being neglected and rejected, and was also traumatized from psychological, emotional, and sexual abuse. She also shares her long and painful journey of healing.

The Mask: I Pledge Allegiance to the Mask Sep 03 2020 The bestselling comic series that inspired the blockbuster film returns with gruesome hilarity from the showrunner of AMC's Halt and Catch Fire and Hellboy's Patric Reynolds. Years ago, a weird mask of unknown origin and limitless power was buried in the cement of an apartment building's basement floor. Edge City and its residents have all but forgotten the mysterious green-faced killer known only as "Big Head." But now, decades later, the bizarre Tex Avery-style killings are happening all over again and are on a collision course with a bizarre political campaign where a homicidal maniac wants to "Make America Green Again"! Collects The Mask: I Pledge Allegiance to the Mask #1-#4.

Life Behind the Masks Jan 19 2022 Mother-Daughter Sexual Abuse MDSA The ultimate betrayal of a child's trust. The taboo subject led by society's denial that abuse of this nature even occurs. Wilma survived 16 years of her mother Hellen's brutal, emotional, physical, and sexual abuse-including acts of torture. Manipulated, controlled, and violated from her earliest memories, Wilma despaired from the constant hunger, sexual abuse, violent beatings, and strip searches. She feared suicide was her only option. The stigma and shame of the abuse silenced Wilma for years. As Wilma found the courage to speak her unspeakable secret-she was relieved by the support she received, after years of being convinced no one would believe her. MacLIVER wrote her powerful, true story in this inspiring book from a daughter-survivor's point of view. Life Behind the Masks is a must-read to witness her miracle healing from the worst kind of sexual abuse- an unforgettable memoir

Me and My Mask Dec 18 2021 James is a young boy. He likes to go outside with his friends and play with his dog. His mother has told him he has to wear a mask now. James doesn't understand why he has to wear one, so his mom explains it to him.

A Mother's Grace Sep 22 2019 What is grace? It is the exercise of love, kindness, mercy, favor; a disposition to benefit or serve another. A mother's grace merits this definition and takes it even further. When a child is born, so is a mother, as she sets off on the most profound, rewarding journey one can take. Our mothers sacrifice and save us, nurture and heal us, guide and teach us. And at each stage, they must learn to trust and let go. The women featured in A Mother's Grace learned this lesson in the cruelest sense after a profound loss of life, home, health, or livelihood brought them to their knees. Though they experienced unimaginable tragedy, each of them turned their suffering and grief into something positive to help others. Through their tears, these everyday women found resilience, and carved their own intuitive path to create powerful nonprofit organizations that are helping to make the world safer and more empathic for us all. Their poignant stories will inspire you to follow them as they lead us to a brighter and more hopeful future. Book jacket.

Taking Off the Mask May 31 2020 Taking Off the Mask By: Antoinette Jackson Get ready to experience a journey to living an authentic life and a life of freedom from behind the mask with Antoinette Jackson. Antoinette realized she was wearing a mask in her twenties. From childhood to adulthood, through pain, rape, abuse, and disappointments, layer by layer she became comfortable in being disguised by her masks. She wasn't willing to let go until there was a spiritual awakening through hearing and applying the word of God. Antoinette was able to peel back layer by layer through a few God-given friendships, receive healing, deliverance, and, through prayer and praise, the love of God came to her rescue.

Me Before Mom Nov 17 2021 No one warned me that becoming a mother would make me feel so rudimentary and small. Motherhood is amazing and because it's so amazing every mother should feel whole and blissfully happy. While that sounds like an easy task, many of us find ourselves lost among the dishes, carpools, homework, and family calendar. It doesn't have to be that way. ME BEFORE MOM asks moms to put in the time to find themselves again; stripping off the mom guilt of what motherhood should look like. What Bert Anderson has written is a call for mothers everywhere to focus on themselves, whether it's through finding a new passion, taking care of herself or investing in friendships. Each chapter focuses on a topic: finding your passion, self-care, emotional intimacy, and self assessments. Written in an easy format and with an accompanying journal ME BEFORE MOM is the perfect book for mothers of all ages.

Mother Without a Mask Sep 27 2022 'Mother Without a Mask' provides a fascinating and very human insight into the lives of Middle Eastern women who are so often out of sight, particularly from Western eyes.

The Mask That Sang Sep 15 2021 Cass and her mom have always stood on their own against the world. Then Cass learns she had a grandmother, one who was never part of her life, one who has just died and left her and her mother the first house they could call their own. But with it comes more questions than answers: Why is her Mom so determined not to live there? Why was this relative kept so secret? And what is the unusual mask, forgotten in a drawer, trying to tell her? Strange dreams, strange voices, and strange incidents all lead Cass closer to solving the mystery and making connections she never dreamed she had.

The Face Behind The Mask Feb 08 2021 This is the story of a mother's fight to save her child from repeated abuse at the hands of her father. This young girl is caught in a justice system so full of holes that it is responsible for forcing her to return to an abusive father. She lived each day afraid of what he would do next. As he pointed a 9mm in her face he says, this is what I do to people who make me mad and shakes it. Children everyday are sent into abuse by a system that fails to protect them and provide for the basic need to be safe. She nearly broke as each person down the chain passed the buck. The strength of her mom kept her fighting until they could see just how broken she was. She was made to feel it was her fault. She was called a liar. How can our system victimize a child for speaking. Glue can't fix abuse and band-aids don't stick so we must not be silenced by abuse. Her tears fell until they could come no more

Removing the Mask Jul 25 2022 In my book, "Removing the Mask: The Life of A Struggling Mother, I Allyn Mitchell invite you to travel with me, down my lonely road called life. I have always been a woman of faith even though I was a preacher's daughter, I never experienced the true meaning of God's love. I always felt like the black sheep of the family because of the absence of my mother's love. At a very young age, my mother gave me to my grandmother. After my grandmother's passing, my life was never the same. I always had a gift for fashion and a flair for beauty. I took that gift and made a life for myself and my children. With that life came a lot of jealousy and pain- people stereotyping me as being a bitch and a whore because of the way I looked and the way I carried myself. I was a classy lady and carried myself with the utmost respect, but because of my unique style, people formed an unapproachable opinion about me. Men used my kindness for weakness because of my kind heart, people lied about me and called me alot of hurtful names. My life was filled with many heartaches and pain. All that pain was followed by my cheating husbands, the murder of someone I loved so deeply, the imprisonment of my son, and the taking of my daughter. Through all the homeless moments in my life, I still kept the faith, that one day God would reward me for all these trials and tribulations, I had in my life. There was one big secret, I had in my life that only me and God knew about. Soon, the whole world will know. But I know through it all, I have to forgive those who played a part in my pain and suffering. To you all, I forgive you because you don't realize what you've done and are doing. The devil is using you as a vessel to bring pain and suffering to your sister in Christ. May God bless you all. Amen.
